Prize: x3 R350 Vouchers for Menck Clothing

Clothing is the embodiment of our human interconnectedness, with each other and with our earth, by applying natural fibres and earth conscious practices. We create real wearables that last and bring joy. With this clothing range, my commitment is to combine nature inspired design with sustainable natural fibres, along with minimal garment processing or intervention, to provide you with 'real wearables' – garments that fit well, flatter, last and are earth conscious. Our planet needs alternatives to fast fashion. Menck Clothing aims to provide such an alternative to the conscious consumer.

Prize: R1500 Voucher for Hoi P'loy

Bespoke vintage inspired lighting. They just don't make 'em like they used to. Yeah, why don't they? That's the question that inspires us daily to elevate the quality of what we create. We are driven by a deep desire to challenge the current status quo, by drawing on traditional approaches, using only high quality authentic materials such as brass, embracing the latest technologies and investing in meaningful experiences starting with our production environment all the way through to the impact our products have on the lives of our supporters.

GroundSpring
playback theatre company

Prize: 2 Tickets to the next public GroundSpring Theatre show

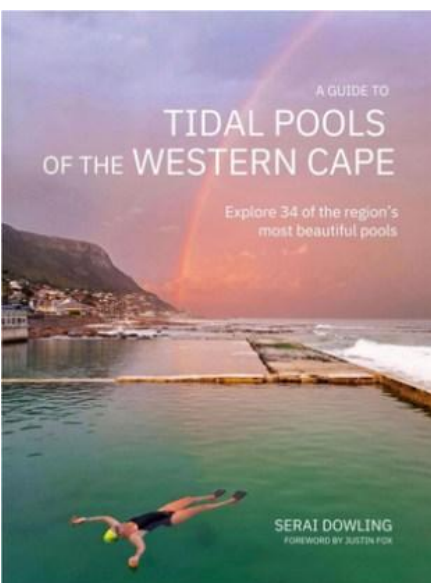

GroundSpring Theatre is an improvisatory theatre show, where audience members' real life stories provide the material for the actors to instantly transform into a theatrical event. South African stories are a powerful resource. They bring people together to create a healing dialogue, allowing us to deeply experience our common humanity. This is GroundSpring's commitment: to challenge familiar perspectives through our storytelling work, so that future possibilities can be imagined, and personal and social narratives can start to transform.

Prize: A Guide to the Tidal Pools of the Western Cape by Serai Dowling (signed by the author) (Value R395)

Serai Dowling is a Michael Oak mum of two, writer and researcher whose primary love is the ocean – and sharing ways in which we can find each other's humanity in "third spaces" like tidal pools. Her bestselling book, A Guide to the Tidal Pools of the Western Cape, explores the history, ecology, and quiet magic of these saltwater sanctuaries, with full colour photos throughout. Her new book, A Guide to Wild Swimming in the Western Cape – co-authored with her husband, Michael Oak high school teacher Matthew Dowling – is due out in November and features 101 of the most beautiful swim spots in the Cape.

Prize: 2 Sushi platters from Clementina Ceramics

Oversized sculptural sushi platters made by Ainslie. Cast earthenware glazed ceramic with stencil illustration. Donated by Clementina Ceramics.
